Surrender

Lord, Your kingdom appears one day.
We know that it'll come to stay.
When Your sign is on high,
then no one can deny that You've arrived, waiting to see You.
And now, we're waiting for You to come.
The Holy and anointed One.
When Your presence is known then the world will be shown that You are He, so certain and true.

Surrender

The world will come to understand,
appreciate You and surrender.

The nations live in harmony
and with You they'll agree. Surrender.
And then before Your throne they'll come
and bow before The Son,
surrender.

Surrender

Saints are dwelling with You above, they're living in perfect love.

What they knew was in store, waited till this day for.

The time has come. It's finally here!

And now, the myst'ries of God are known while living in their new home.

What was hidden, revealed, nothing more is concealed.

By You alone, no more do we fear.

Surrender

The world will come to understand,
appreciate You and surrender.

The nations live in harmony
and with You they'll agree. Surrender.
And then before Your throne they'll come
and bow before The Son,
surrender.

Surrender

Time is now. Unveiling has begun.
And we know, that nevermore now,
can Your will be undone.

You are the King and to those believing bring new life again!
Knowing death was not the end.

Not the end!

Lord, Your kingdom appears one day.
We know that it'll come to stay.
Till then, on You we depend.
